

PMETB National Survey of Trainers 2008

Briefing Note 4: Text for websites

Dear Colleagues,

The response rates to the PMETB National Survey of Trainers have not reached the levels we need to report the results by provider. Therefore we are asking all colleges and deaneries if they are able to put some suggested text and a link on their websites to encourage all consultants and GP trainers to fill out a survey return:

Consultants and GP trainers: it's time to have your say!

Response rates to the PMETB National Survey of Trainers since its launch have not reached the levels PMETB need to report the results by provider. All consultants, GP trainers and GPs with foundation trainees are asked to submit a form to ensure we can provide useful results that will help us quality assure the training you provide.

Why every submission counts

By completing the survey you will ensure that we can:

- Provide reports on training by specialties, deaneries and NHS organisations
- See how your training standards compare against others
- Give consultants the chance to voice their concerns at local and national levels

Go to: <http://www.pmetb.org.uk/trainersurvey>, where if you haven't already done so, you will be able to request a code for access and take part in the survey.

Kind regards

Daniel Smith
